Steve has been an insurance professional for over 20 years. He joined our agency in 1998 after working as a commercial underwriter for The Cincinnati Insurance Company.

Besides advising his personal lines customers, Steve also insures many businesses in the Cincinnati area. These include industries such as manufacturing, restaurants, contractors, dentists, non-profits, clubs, technology firms, distributors, religious institutions, real estate, and universities among others.

Service and trust are keys to Steve's clients' satisfaction. He prides himself on gaining a client's trust that they will have the appropriate coverage to fit their individual needs. Communication and personal attention are essential to establishing a successful working relationship with his clients.

Steve enjoys spending his time with his wife Leslie and their children Adam, Emily, and Sean. Often he can be found volunteering for services throughout his community and also coaching various teams for his church.
