Scott joined the agency in 1986 after working as a commercial underwriter for The Cincinnati Insurance Company for two years.

Scott insures small to large mid-cap corporations and business. These include industries such as manufacturing companies, restaurants, contractors, dentists, non-profits, nursing homes, advertising agencies, private clubs, technology firms, distributors, religious institutions, real estate, food service, engineering, and public entities among others. His personal lines customers all have their main residence here in the Tri-State area although many may have additional exposures around the country.

Scott sold his first insurance policy in 1986. From that first policy to his most recent, Scott's relationship with his clients is based on mutual trust. It's a two way street: integrity, dependability and loyalty are the bedrock of trust. Scott endeavors to be transparent in all of his transactions, faithful in his service to your objectives, and appreciative of your business.

Scott enjoys volunteering for services throughout his community and for various church sponsored programs.
